

County will consider city's road request

TILLAMOOK — At a regular business meeting Wednesday, July 25, Tillamook County Commissioners will consider a request by the City of Manzanita to close the lower end of a road named "County Road" at its intersection with Manzanita Avenue and U.S. 101.

County Road's intersection with U.S. 101 has a poor angle for sight distance and is considered unsafe by the county, city and Oregon Department of Transportation.

The south 400 feet of County Road is a county jurisdiction road within the city limits.

The alternate route to reach U.S. 101 from the south end of Epoh Avenue will be west on North Avenue, south on Division Street to Manzanita Avenue. North Avenue has been constructed by the city, and is open to traffic.

The proposed closure would include a city standard barricade and city construction of a gravel turnaround just north of the barricade on Pine Avenue.

These actions will be complemented by temporary signing for the alternate access route to reach U.S. 101.

Before the commissioners consider the request July 25, signs will be posted at the lower portion of County Road with a notice.

Comments regarding this proposed closure may be mailed to the Board of Commissioners, Tillamook County Courthouse, 201 Laurel Ave, Tillamook, OR 97141.
